

TYRANTS OF THE UNDERDARK™

Cohorts a mini-expansion

Introduction

Not all who support any particular drow noble house are actual members of the nobility – in fact, houses may have supporters who are not even drow. This mini-expansion adds some variation and asymmetry to the starting setup for a Tyrants of the Underdark game.

It may also help get a player's decks up and running faster (and perhaps a bit more evenly) at the start of the game.

Components

10 "Cohort" Minion cards.

Setup

Shuffle the 10 "Cohort Minion" cards and deal two to each player, and allow each player to secretly select one to Recruit, discarding the other. The players reveal their selected cards and place that card in their discard pile like any other Recruited card.

During Play

The selected additional Minion card becomes part of a player's deck and enters play as any other Recruited card as they reshuffle. They are treated as any other card.

Variants for Setup

Once the Cohort Minion is selected and revealed, you could:

- Place at the bottom of your draw deck.
- Devour a card of your choice in your starting deck before your initial shuffle.
- Simply shuffle it into your starting deck.
- Place it next to your play mat, only you can buy your selected card as if it were in the market, then it can be purchased as any other Minion card.
